Advance Searching on JSTOR

The screenshot shows the JSTOR Advanced Search interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the JSTOR logo, 'Advanced Search', 'Browse', and 'Tools'. Below this, the 'Advanced Search' section is titled with a 'Search Help' link. The search form consists of three rows of input fields. The first row has a text box containing 'World Religions' and a dropdown menu set to 'Item Title'. The second row has a dropdown menu set to 'AND', a text box containing 'Hinduism', and a dropdown menu set to 'Item Title'. The third row has a dropdown menu set to 'OR', a text box containing 'Buddhism', and a dropdown menu set to 'All fields'. Below these fields is a button labeled 'Add a search box'. At the bottom of the form, there is a dropdown menu labeled 'Select an access type' set to 'Content I can access', and a final button labeled 'Submit Advanced Search'.

- Use the drop down menus to search within specific fields
- Use Boolean operators (AND, OR) to combine terms

World Religions – Hinduism - Buddhism

- Use the "Narrow By" options to focus your search
